The session was informative as it explained the students about the various kinds of investment and also different kinds of securities in which investors planning to make an investment can deal. It also spoke about the mutual funds, financial planning and also importance of diversification of funds in order to reduce losses.

It was an interactive session because the students were allowed to question and also sir kept it interesting by asking questions and ensuring that we were understanding the topics. The explanation was made very easy for us to understand. It gave us a practical understanding of the investment and trading. Thus it was a very informative session by Ismail Sir.
